Cardiff Council Recruitment Pack

Letter from the Leader

Dear Applicant

Thank you for your interest in this exciting and challenging role.

Cardiff has been reinvented over the past quarter of a century as an internationally recognised capital city. This success can be seen in the rapid growth of the city's population with Cardiff now one of the fastest growing and most highly skilled major British cities. It can also be evidenced by strong performance in a number of headline economic indicators with unemployment down, employment growth up and visitor numbers having doubled over the last decade.

However, the proceeds of Cardiff's growth over recent decades have not been felt by all of the city's residents. The gap between the most and least prosperous communities in Cardiff is substantial. Similarly, while Cardiff's population growth is a sign of strength for the city, unless it is well-planned and well-managed it will put the city's physical and social infrastructures under real strain. This risk to the city's productivity, quality of life and standard of public services must be addressed. Tackling inequality and managing growth sustainably will therefore be at the heart of the Council's agenda.

The administration also recognises that it must deliver for Cardiff during a period of unprecedented financial austerity for the Council, and its public service partners. Protecting the services that are most important to residents will mean challenging old ways of working and embracing change where we are convinced it will deliver better services for the people of Cardiff.

As an organisation we must move away from dealing with problems in isolation and begin to integrate frontline teams that are empowered to address the day-to-day issues we know need solving. In the same way, individual directorates can no longer operate as silos: the Council must act as one seamless team to drive improvement across the city.

More broadly, the Council must work across the public services to deliver lasting solutions to complex problems. Removing the barriers that prevent people from getting a job, delivering the best outcomes for children in our care and helping people to live independently all require services to be delivered without boundaries. It demands a relentless focus on service integration to deliver the outcomes that we want to achieve.

A successful capital city is also a national, not just a regional, asset. We must be an outward-looking city, working with all our partners to make sure that Cardiff's success is shared with local people, regional partners and the country as a whole. Cardiff must be a capital city that works for Wales.

The Administration has therefore set out in its policy statement- 'Capital Ambition'- a programme of action to create opportunity, manage growth and reform public services whilst ensuring that the benefits of success are felt by all residents.

We invite you to take up the challenge with us.

Councillor Huw Thomas Leader of the Council

New Morrie

Letter from the Chief Executive

Dear Applicant

In no area is the need for integration across public services greater than at the interface between social care, health and housing. This is particularly the case in relation to supporting older people where the number of citizens in Cardiff aged between 65 and 84 is projected to rise by 45% over the next 20 years, and the number over 85 years old expected to nearly double. The demand pressures and costs associated with an aging population are significant, and are projected to increase.

Finding solutions to these long-term challenges will mean adopting a whole-system approach across social care, health and housing to help older people stay safe and healthy, and live independently in their own homes, for as long as possible. The new post of Corporate Director People & Communities will therefore have strategic responsibility for integrating services to vulnerable people, building on the positive working arrangements that have developed in recent years between the current Social Services and Communities, Housing and Customer Services directorates.

The post will make a crucial senior-level contribution towards enabling the Council – and Cardiff more broadly – to respond positively to fundamental challenges, formulating a cohesive cross-council approach to the development of a change agenda for social services and housing that is vital to the Council's reputation, service delivery role and financial resilience. Above all, there's a need to coordinate more effectively inter-related services in the areas of prevention, housing and social care.

Excellent work has taken place in recent years, particularly around improvements to social care practice and strengthening the Council's ability to support elderly citizens to maintain their independence in their home environment. However, there is now an opportunity to go further, to join up disparate services that are crucial to managing demand more effectively. In addition, at a time when we are seeking to build more council homes, it is essential that the opportunity is taken to meet the accommodation needs of Cardiff's most vulnerable citizens.

The post-holder will bring effective change management expertise and have line management responsibility for the statutory Director of Social Services, covering the full spectrum of adults and children's services.

The Corporate Director will also have overarching managerial responsibility for a net revenue budget in excess of £196m, along with a gross Housing Revenue Budget of £73.5m.

You will be joining an experienced, talented and committed Senior Management Team providing the professional leadership needed to deliver the administration's Capital Ambition agenda. It is an exciting opportunity.

Yours sincerely

Paul Orders Chief Executive
