Recognition and awards July 2018

Excellence recognised for our Youth and Families First Services

Congratulations to the staff in Youth Services and Families 1st for their well-deserved recognition in this year's Youth Work Excellence Awards.

Thanks to them, Cardiff Council featured in three out of the nine categories in this year's national awards, designed to acknowledge the best youth workers and youth work projects from across Wales.

Early Intervention and Prevention in Youth Services won the award for Engagement with Formal Education, Employment and Training.

The team delivers its Youth Mentor project to all secondary schools in Cardiff, as well as in the local communities. The project supports young people who are identified as, or at risk of becoming, not engaged in education, employment or training (NEET).

Commenting on the work of the team, the judges said: "This project demonstrated the positive outcomes of using a youth worker approach to engage with NEET young people. In the last year the project has successfully supported 911 individuals."

Louise Coombs had the tremendous accolade of being named as this year's Outstanding Youth Worker, for her work in Grassroots to support young people aged 16-25 with a wide range of complex needs.

She has been instrumental in driving many of the programmes forward, in particular the Young Parents Group, where she identified a need to offer a range of support, working in partnership with health visitors, midwives and others.

The judges said: "Louise went above and beyond for the young people, and often carried out work outside of her usual 'youth work' duties. This included ensuring she kept in regular contact with young people who were being held in custody so they knew they would have a friendly and supportive person to speak to on their release."

In the Promoting Young People's Rights category, the Families 1st Cardiff Young Commissioners project took the runners up spot. The judges felt this was a great young person led project and provided evidence in the ever growing confidence of the young people. It highlighted the important work of the young people who were given the opportunity to participate in the commissioning of new services and play a clear role in the decision-making process.

Well done to everyone on these wonderful achievements.

Schoolchildren open their eyes to a world of opportunity

Some of the biggest names in business, arts and culture are visiting schools in Cardiff over the two weeks last month to speak to children about the career opportunities the city has to offer.

Now in its fourth year, Open Your Eyes is designed to raise career aspirations and 38 businesses and organisations from Cardiff and the wider city region are visiting 16 schools in the cluster areas for Cardiff West Community High School and Fitzalan High School.

Using links created through the Cardiff Commitment, this year's Open Your Eyes will see more businesses and organisations, visiting more schools and speaking to more children and young people than ever before.

Millbank Primary in Caerau is one of the schools involved in Open Your Eyes this year, and welcomed Science Rapper Jon Chaser from University of South Wales. Explaining why it is important for them to take part, Headteacher, Mrs Karen Brown, said: "I am very passionate about the children having the best life-chances possible, and love that businesses and organisations are committed to showing them the many opportunities that are within their reach. I am thrilled that this is something we can work on as a whole cluster, including our new local high school, Cardiff West Community High School. "I hope the pupils understand the wide range of pathways and opportunities open to them as they grow up in Cardiff, and get inspiration from the speakers with regards the skills they are already learning, and how these will help them in that or any other career. I am looking forward to employers sharing their journeys in their careers - explaining to the children the need for study, hard work, resilience, determination and dreams!"

The Cardiff Commitment sets out how we will work together with a wide range of public, private and third sector partners to give every young person in Cardiff the best start in life after they finish school, either in employment or further education and training. Engage to Change success!

Cardiff Council have been awarded Large Employer of the Year by Learning Disability Wales for supporting the Engage to Change project.

The Resources Business Support Team have been working with Elite Supported Employment Agency to deliver opportunities for young people with learning disabilities to develop their employment skills and experience through paid work placements. The project aims to improve wellbeing outcomes through the increased independence, financial status, social capital and fulfilment that paid work offers.

Laura Plenty works within Accounts Payable; initially supported by Elite with one to one training and specialist support, Laura now works independently within the team.

Laura said: "Since joining the Business support team over six months ago I have been able to learn lots of processes in Accounts Payable. I enjoy working as part of the team who have supported me since I started working for Cardiff Council".

The Business Support Team have been recognised for their exemplary support in working with Elite to overcome barriers, and facilitate people with disabilities into work.

Huge congratulations to the team and everyone involved

Cardiff.gov.uk – A better website for customers

In June, following design and usability refresh, the Council's website received a top 4 star customer focused rating.

The Socitm Better Connected programme, which reviews all local authority websites, put our website through its paces to rate how successful the site is in responding to customer needs.

The aim of the review is to ensure councils are providing web content and services that are customer focused and accessible to as many web visitors as possible. Among other elements, Better Connected reviewers looked at the website's usability, accessibility, content, navigation and search.

Key points to note about the Council's website:

- Top council website in Wales – only 4 star site in Wales
- Top 10% of local authority websites in UK (414 sites were tested)

- Highlighted as best practice for mobile site
- Praised for clear, well signposted content

Congratulations to the Website Team, who are based in Communities and Customer Services, on this fantastic result.

You can check out the website at www.cardiff.gov.uk on desktops and mobile devices.

Cardiff Gov App has launched!

I am pleased to confirm the Council's new 'Cardiff Gov' App has launched, offering our residents a new digital experience in connecting with us.

Residents can get free notification reminders for their recycling and waste collections straight to their mobile devices, they can now check their Council Tax account on the go and report fly-tipping straight from the scene.

More of the Council's services will be added to the App over the next few months, so keep a look out!

To download the App visit the Google Play Store or Apple's App store and search 'Cardiff Gov' and install onto your phone.

COUNCIL

MOTION 1

Proposed by: Councillor Rodney Berman

Seconded by: Councillor Emma Sandrey

This Council notes:

- 1) Obesity is defined by the World Health Organisation (WHO) as excessive body fat that presents a risk to health, and is recognised as a major risk factor for a number of chronic diseases (including diabetes, cardiovascular disease and certain types of cancer).
- 2) The WHO has warned that being overweight or obese is the most important avoidable cause of cancer after tobacco, and the Local Government Association has argued that obesity is considered to be one of the most serious public health challenges of the 21st century.
- 3) Across the UK, published statistics show that the prevalence of obesity – as defined by having a Body Mass Index (BMI) of 30 kg/m^2 or more – increased from 15% of adults in 1993 to 27% in 2015.
- 4) Data published by the Public Health Wales Observatory shows the percentage of adults in Cardiff who reported to be obese through the Welsh Health Survey for 2009-12 was 15% for those aged 16-44, 26% for those aged 45-64 and 18% for those aged 65+.
- 5) The prevalence of obesity amongst children in Wales is increasing. Whilst the latest statistics published by Public Health Wales from the Child Measurement Programme for Wales show that Cardiff fares better than the majority of other local authority areas in Wales, they nonetheless show that the percentage of children in the city aged 4 to 5 who are obese was found to be 10.7% in 2016-17, up from 9.4% in 2015-16.
- 6) Data from the Child Measurement Programme for Wales also shows a higher prevalence of obesity amongst children living in the most deprived areas in Wales compared to those living in the least deprived, with a similar correlation between deprivation and obesity prevalence in adults also being identified within the data from the Welsh Health Survey for 2009-12.
- 7) Following on from commitments in the Public Health (Wales) Act 2017, the Welsh Government has recently announced it is in the process of developing a 10-year healthy weight strategy which it will consult on later this year.

Recognising the seriousness of this issue in Cardiff and its impact on the health of our citizens, this Council therefore calls upon the Cabinet to:

- 1) work with relevant partner organisations (including Cardiff & Vale University Health Board and Public Health Wales) to draw up, and bring back to full council for consideration later this year, a 5-10 year strategy aimed at reducing the prevalence of obesity amongst both adults and children in Cardiff; and
- 2) in developing this strategy, give due consideration to incorporating the following proposals:
 - a. setting challenging but realistic local SMART targets to work towards a reduction in obesity prevalence amongst children and adults in Cardiff
 - b. including specific targeted actions aimed at tackling obesity amongst children (including through working with the city's schools) as well as amongst those living in the city's more deprived communities
 - c. undertaking a city-based public awareness campaign along the lines of Hugh Fearnley-Wittingstall's "Newcastle Can" campaign (<https://www.newcastlecan.com/>), as recently featured on the BBC One programme "Britain's Fat Fight"
 - d. working with local businesses to promote greater provision of nutritional information, possibly through a voluntary scheme involving smaller food outlets such as independent cafes and restaurants, to give customers the ability to make better informed choices when eating out
 - e. imposing a ban on junk food advertising on all council-controlled advertising sites, including bus shelters, along the lines of similar proposals recently announced by the Mayor of London in relation to London's bus and tube network
 - f. working towards increased provision of public drinking water fountains and water re-fill stations, to provide a further alternative option to buying high-sugar soft drinks
 - g. ensuring that action to tackle obesity is co-ordinated across council policies – including through the promotion of active travel within the city's transport strategy, the local planning framework, and through recognising the important contribution of leisure services
 - h. exploring the possibility within local planning policy of developing "healthy zones" where the number of fast food outlets is limited, as well as the possibility of adopting supplementary planning guidance with similar requirements to Gateshead Council's supplementary planning document for hot food takeaways which requires consideration to be undertaken of where children congregate, the numbers of hot food takeaways already in existence and the existence of high levels of obesity
 - i. consider best practice from other cities which have adopted local programmes aimed at tackling obesity, including Amsterdam which oversaw a 12% reduction in the number of overweight and obese children between 2012 and 2015.

AMENDMENT 1 TO MOTION 1

Proposed by: Councillor Huw Thomas

Seconded by: Councillor Susan Elsmore

This Council notes:

1. Obesity is defined by the World Health Organisation (WHO) as excessive body fat that presents a risk to health, and is recognised as a major risk factor for a number of chronic diseases (including diabetes, cardiovascular disease and certain types of cancer).
2. The WHO has warned that being overweight or obese is the most important avoidable cause of cancer after tobacco, and the Local Government Association has argued that obesity is considered to be one of the most serious public health challenges of the 21st century.
3. Across the UK, published statistics show that the prevalence of obesity – as defined by having a Body Mass Index (BMI) of 30 kg/m^2 or more – increased from 15% of adults in 1993 to 27% in 2015.
4. Data published by the Public Health Wales Observatory shows the percentage of adults in Cardiff who reported to be obese through the Welsh Health Survey for 2009-12 was 15% for those aged 16-44, 26% for those aged 45-64 and 18% for those aged 65+.
5. The prevalence of obesity amongst children in Wales is increasing. Insert additional paragraph to read

“That Tackling obesity cannot be disentangled from action to tackle poverty and social exclusion. As Sir Michael Marmot, Chair of the Commission on Social Determinants of Health concludes “If you want to solve the obesity problem, you have to solve the inequality problem first.”

This Council welcomes

The commitments for creating a healthy and active city contained within the Public Services Board’s Well-being Plan in the following areas:

- Active travel
- Creating sustainable, connected communities
- Healthy and sustainable food, including the school holiday enrichment programme
- Increasing participation in sport and physical activity

And the following outcome indicators:

- % of children aged 4 to 5 who are a healthy weight
- % of children walking/cycling to work
- % of adults eating 5 or more portions of fruit and vegetables every day
- % of adults active for less than 30 minutes a week

This Council further notes that

- 8 Following on from commitments in the Public Health (Wales) Act 2017, the Welsh Government has recently announced it is in the process of developing a deletion of the word “10-year” healthy weight strategy which it will consult on later this year.

Insert additional paragraph's to read

“This Council endorses the PSB’s proposed response to this Strategy, namely

The development of a local cross-public service response, led by the Director of Public Health, the city’s leading public health advocate, reporting to the Cardiff Public Services Board.

This response, recognising the significant good work already underway, will focus on the development of a local action plan or framework (rather than further work on a local strategy) that maps current activity against best practice, identifies gaps in provision and targets interventions.

This work will be undertaken in the autumn, following the publication of the national strategy. Public Health have committed to involve Members in the development of this work.

Deletion of the paragraph below and paragraphs 1 and 2 (a – i)

Recognising the seriousness of this issue in Cardiff and its impact on the health of our citizens, this Council therefore calls upon the Cabinet to:

1. work with relevant partner organisations (including Cardiff & Vale University Health Board and Public Health Wales) to draw up, and bring back to full council for consideration later this year, a 5-10 year strategy aimed at reducing the prevalence of obesity amongst both adults and children in Cardiff; and

15	QUESTION TO COUNTY COUNCILLOR WILD (STRATEGIC PLANNING AND TRANSPORT PORTFOLIO) QUESTION FROM COUNTY COUNCILLOR SANDREY In light of a recent cycling accident at a Cardiff school, claims have been made that the head teacher has subsequently stopped children cycling to school. How does this encourage children and parents to feel confident in cycling, and doesn't it send the message that it's cyclists to blame for accidents, when we need to be encouraging all road users, but especially car drivers, to be considerate and safe on our roads?

16	QUESTION TO COUNTY COUNCILLOR MICHAEL (CLEAN STREETS, RECYCLING & ENVIRONMENT PORTFOLIO) QUESTION FROM COUNTY COUNCILLOR HUDSON In February of this year, 8 waste management operatives were arrested on suspicion of fraud. 7 of those were Cardiff Council employees. They were released on bail under police investigation. Since then there has been a distinct lack of communication to councillors with the salient information – who/why/how long had the fraud continued, what was alleged and how are the investigations progressing? Allegations of fraud are very serious and bring the reputation of the Council into question. What steps have been taken to resolve the situation and/or bring it to a conclusion?
17	QUESTION TO COUNTY COUNCILLOR WILD (STRATEGIC PLANNING AND TRANSPORT PORTFOLIO) QUESTION FROM COUNTY COUNCILLOR WALKER All parties are agreed on the urgency of reducing vehicle emissions and improving air quality in the city. There is also widespread support for improving the provision of charging facilities for electric vehicles but, of course, the primary source for charging will be where the vehicle is parked overnight. Will the cabinet member take steps to press for new Council policies and, where necessary planning guidance, to ensure that developers provide all Cardiff new build properties with charging points in line with national standards?
18	QUESTION TO COUNTY COUNCILLOR WILD (STRATEGIC PLANNING AND TRANSPORT PORTFOLIO) QUESTION FROM COUNTY COUNCILLOR DRISCOLL Following a number of recent serious accidents on Western Avenue in Llandaff, there is a feeling amongst residents that the 40mph speed limit needs to be reduced to 30mph; do you agree?
