Assistant Director -Adults Social Services

Dear Applicant,

Re: Assistant Director (Adults), Social Services

Thank you for your interest in this exciting and challenging role.

This is a good time to be joining a new Directorate Management Team following the decision taken last year to bring Children's and Adults' social care together as an integrated Social Services Directorate. This change provides and exciting opportunity for you to directly shape the future of the capital City's social care for a generation. A high profile role for someone with ambitions to achieve the best outcomes for older people and vulnerable adults, this post will play a critical role in implementing the Social Services and Well Being Act 2014.

Social Services is a top priority for the Council, receiving strong support from the Cabinet and the Chief Executive. An effective and integrated programme of strategic improvement initiatives has made very good progress in bringing in new thinking in relation to demand management and prevention. Among the strides we have made recently are a newly awarded contract for a modernised Learning Disability service; a newly launched Single Point of Contact; new mobile and scheduling working practices; a newly established Regional Adults Safeguarding Board; a cross Directorate Target Operating Model; a new vulnerable adults accommodation strategy; good inspection outcomes in relation to DOLS and most recently Domiciliary Care. There are very strong and supportive partnership arrangements with other Directorates and with corporate colleagues.

If successful, you will complete a newly formed, energetic and mutually supportive senior management team with a clear commitment to deliver on a comprehensive Improvement Plan. For an ambitious senior manager there is much scope for you in this programme of work, including

- Leading a positive and potentially far reaching programme of strategic and operational integration with the University Health Board
- Progressing the acceleration of regional delivery models with health, our neighbouring Council (Vale of Glamorgan) and the third sector
- Embedding a commissioning-led approach to strategic development
- Rebalancing services in favour of prevention
- Creating and designing new approaches and whole-systems services with other directorates
- Responding to the Welsh Government's Social Services and Well Being Act

We have an energetic and committed workforce, innovative programmes of development and aspirations to be everything that services in a capital city should be. We remain conscious however, that a step change is needed in terms of the pace of change and that at the same time, a stable and well supported workforce is key. We know that what the future holds in terms of demographic pressures across the city. We are also facing a context of sharply diminishing local government resources and we know that we need to ensure the sustainability of services that prioritise those at risk and those most in need. To do that effectively, we need to ensure that we intervene early and reduce the need for intensive and high cost services.

If these competing challenges don't sound like a familiar picture then this is probably not the job for you. If they do and you are eager to meet the challenge, to bring energy and willingness to work as part of an able and committee management team, I would be interested in hearing from you.

I am looking for a person with a strong value base, oriented around transparency and better outcomes for citizens; someone who values high professional standards and knows how to ensure that the quality of practice across a complex service continues to improve; someone who can in effect translate values and vision into practice and delivery. You will be a strategic leader with substantial experience of managing statutory services. You will have the ability to manage a wide portfolio of responsibilities within a council environment and be able to work well with partners, with regulators and inspectors and with members and staff.

If you are interested in this post and want to know more please contact Tony Young, Director – Social Services on 02920 873803.
