The Committee were invited to comment, seek clarification or raise questions on the information received. Those discussions were summarised as follows:

- Members queried the nature of the problems that arose during meetings with families and children and noted often the same themes did arise, for example trust issues and a lack of coherent narrative. Shame is also a massive topic. All of which is fed back in to future training and conversations.
- Members noted that there was not a waiting list as such. Either the team do or do not have the capacity, turnover is slow due the nature of the work.
- Members queried whether it was possible to observe one of the groups bearing in mind the issues of privacy and data protection.
- Members were advised that there was a real thirst for information from teachers as opposed to there being a lack of awareness - anecdotally teachers find the input very helpful. It is hoped that the trauma responsive model can be embedded within schools.
- Members discussed funding and whether the service was properly resourced. The service is currently funded by means of Integrated Care Funding and currently funding is being provided for an additional 5 members of staff. The costs of any foster care placement breaking down would be far greater.
