Letter from the Leader

Dear Applicant

Thank you for your interest in this exciting and challenging role.

Cardiff has been reinvented over the past quarter of a century as an internationally recognised capital city. This success can be seen in the rapid growth of the city's population with Cardiff now one of the fastest growing and most highly skilled major British cities. It can also be evidenced by strong performance over recent years in a number of headline economic indicators, with unemployment down, employment growth up and visitor numbers having doubled over the last decade.

However, the proceeds of Cardiff's growth over recent decades have not been felt by all of the city's residents. The gap between the most and least prosperous communities in Cardiff is substantial. Similarly, while Cardiff's population growth is a sign of strength for the city, unless it is well-planned and well-managed it will put the city's physical and social infrastructures under real strain. This risk to the city's productivity, quality of life and standard of public services must be addressed. Tackling inequality and managing growth sustainably will therefore be at the heart of the Council's agenda.

The administration also recognises that it must deliver for Cardiff during a sustained period of unprecedented financial austerity for the Council and its public service partners. Protecting the services that are most important to residents will mean challenging old ways of working and embracing change, not least in the context of the current pandemic – focusing on reforms that will deliver better services for the people of Cardiff.

As an organisation, we must move away from dealing with problems in isolation and begin to integrate frontline teams that are empowered to address the day-to-day issues we know need solving. In the same way, individual directorates can no longer operate as silos: the Council must act as one seamless team to drive improvement across the city.

More broadly, the Council must work across the public services to deliver lasting solutions to complex problems. Removing the barriers that prevent people from getting a job, delivering the best outcomes for children in our care and helping people to live independently all require services to be delivered without boundaries. It demands a relentless focus on service integration to deliver the outcomes that we want to achieve.

A successful capital city is also a national, not just a regional, asset. We must be an outward-looking city, working with all our partners to make sure that Cardiff's success is shared with local people, regional partners and the country as a whole. Cardiff must be a capital city that works for Wales.

The administration has therefore set out in its policy statement – 'Capital Ambition' – a programme of action to create opportunity, manage growth and reform public services, whilst ensuring that the benefits of success are felt by all residents.

We invite you to take up the challenge with us.

Leader of the Council

Letter from the Chief Executive

Dear Applicant

This is an exciting opportunity to become part of our experienced, talented and committed Senior Management Team working collaboratively in a leading public sector organisation with 13,000 employees delivering over 700 individual services to over 350,000 residents.

Cardiff Council needs creative, experienced and enterprising people with an appetite to explore new ways of working across boundaries and sectors to secure the best possible outcomes for Cardiff, the capital city of Wales and a leading UK Core City.

Having the right people, with the right skills, in the right place, at the right time and at the right cost is critical to us achieving the administration's objectives as set out in Capital Ambition and the Corporate Plan.

We need to ensure that employees want to work for us, feel that they are valued and supported as individuals, in accordance with the Council's values in order to retain our talented workforce. At the same time, we want to be recognised as an employer of choice and be known for having a culture that supports high performance and enables a flexible, skilled, engaged and diverse workforce.

Traditional public service models of service delivery are being challenged in the context of austerity and demand, and an unprecedented public health emergency. This requires an ambitious and comprehensive modernisation agenda that will have significant implications for our workforce.

The Council will need to support the development of different leadership qualities and skills across the workforce. We recognise that, to deliver our corporate objectives, we will need to engage effectively with our employees to inspire and encourage them to generate ideas and participate in improving how we deliver our services.

The role of Chief Human Resources Officer is integral to all of this. As a member of the Senior Management Team, in this role, you will be leading on corporate and cross-cutting actions to ensure that the Council meets current and future workforce needs.

If you wish to discuss the role further, please contact Chris Lee, Corporate Director Resources, Tel: (029) 2087 2300.

Yours sincerely

Paul Orders
Chief Executive

Chief Human Resources Officer

Salary £88,985

About The Service

Cardiff is a vibrant and diverse city, and one of the fastest growing cities in the UK. As a major employer of 13,000 employees working across the Council's services and in schools, the Council is reliant on an efficient and effective Human Resources function as a key enabler for the delivery of relevant aspects of the administration's Capital Ambition commitments and the Council's Corporate Plan.

About The Job

Reporting to the Corporate Director Resources, you will be responsible for providing quality human resources expertise across the Council. Your strategic focus and people-centred approach will ensure that the Council, as a major employer in the city, is well placed to respond to current and future challenges.

As a member of the Council's Senior Management Team you will play an integral strategic role in leading highly effective human resources service delivery, reshaping the Council and driving performance to ensure continued focus on improvement.

What We Are Looking For From You

You will be able to perform at your best working at a strategic level in a large organisation. Your in depth understanding of local government will enable you to deliver service change, and to shape and influence the way that human resources services are delivered. You will also have the ability to contribute to corporate improvement outside of your direct remit.

You will be articulate, credible and able to win respect by giving clear expert advice. You will have the ability to think strategically and handle complex issues with ease.

A confident communicator, you will quickly establish effective professional relationships across the Council, including with trade union partners, as well as across the broader HR network in Wales and beyond.

You will have a proven track record in human resources management.

This post is politically restricted in accordance with the Local Government and Housing Act 1989 (as amended by Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009).

Closing Date: 16th December 2020

Additional Information

If you wish to have an informal discussion about the post, please contact Chris Lee, Corporate Director Resources, Tel: (029) 2087 2300.
