

Corporate Parenting Advisory Committee

Annual Report
2021/22

Chair's Foreword

I am pleased to introduce the 2021/2022 Annual Report of the Corporate Parenting Advisory Committee. The introduction of the reinvigorated Corporate Parenting Strategy in 2021 has set out an exciting and ambitious plan to help improve the lives of our Care experienced young people in Cardiff and formed the yearly work programme for the Committee.

As you can see from the report the Committee have received a variety of updates from a wide range of organisations, services and teams that have all played a role in supporting our children and young people. It has been inspiring to see all the exciting work and developments.

The introduction of a key performance dashboard has helped Committee Members gain a wider understanding of services that support our children and young people. New Terms of Reference reaffirm our commitment to hear the voices of care experienced young people in Cardiff.

A particular highlight for me was taking part in an engagement session with some members of the Bright Sparks group. It was great to directly hear their views, aspirations, and experiences in order to help the Committee to gain an understanding of the issues impacting them. These views will help to guide the agenda for the Committee and help to plan and develop projects and support for the future.

I would like to thank those managers and partners who have taken the time and effort to share their knowledge and understanding of issues, solutions, good practice, and achievements. We as Committee members are grateful for those insights.

What does it mean to be a Corporate Parent?

The term describes how Cardiff Council collectively fulfil their parenting responsibilities, by seeking positive outcomes for children looked after and young adults who are care leavers in the same way we do for our own children. From early years into adulthood all our children, young people and young adults should be kept safe, are happy and have every opportunity to thrive. Leadership & influence Effective Corporate Parenting requires not only strong collective ownership and leadership but influence at the most senior level” Cardiff Corporate Parenting Strategy 2021-2024

Young people Participation

The National Youth Advocacy Service (NYAS) are commissioned by Cardiff Children’s Services to deliver a participation service called the Bright Sparks group to children and young people aged 11-25 needing care and support. The principal objective is to ensure children and young people are afforded a voice, becoming active participants in shaping policy and service provision within the council and within a wider external context.

In addition, Bright Sparks is a peer support forum for care experienced children and young people, providing them with opportunities to take part in social activities, other participation opportunities and avenues of support.

At each Committee meeting the Participation Officer from NYAS Cymru attends to inform the Committee of work undertaken by members of the Bright Sparks group in line with the Priorities in the Corporate Parenting Strategy. The updates also provide feedback from young people in order to strengthen the voice of young people and inform the Committee of the challenges, achievements and views of care experienced young people in Cardiff.

Engagement Session with Bright Sparks Group

The Chair of the Corporate Parenting Advisory Committee met with members of the Bright Sparks group via an engagement session at a local venue. The purpose of the session was for members of the Bright Sparks group to find out more about the role of the Committee and role of the Chair. The session also helped the Chair of the Committee understand the issues directly impacting young people.

A series of ice breaker activities were held which included a question-and-answer session and an exhibition of a photography project that members of the Bright Sparks group took part in. The session also provided an opportunity for young people and the chair to have an open discussion about their experiences and provide feedback on the Corporate Parenting Strategy.

Feedback from young people who took part in the engagement session:

“I’m glad that I came today – I got my point across and got to explain what it is like for us. I would like to do that again; it is important that they listen”

“It was very interesting and good to speak directly instead of through a Social Worker or Advocate”

The themes identified in the engagement session were presented to the January 2022 Committee meeting. This included:

- Access to mental health services
- Stigma

- Cost of living

This feedback will inform projects developed with partners, young people and the Corporate Parenting Operational group.

Member Protocol on Safeguarding Vulnerable Children and Adults

In November 2020 members of the Committee considered a revised draft of a Member Protocol which provided guidance and advice to Elected Members on their roles and responsibilities in relation to safeguarding vulnerable children and adults.

The Director of Governance and Legal Services and an independent consultant informed the Committee of the work that had been undertaken to develop the protocol. This included incorporating flowcharts to clarify the process for members to make a safeguarding referral or to raise other safeguarding concerns and extensive discussion with members to ensure it remained fit for purpose.

The Committee were advised that the document had been considered by the Standards and Ethics Committee and also the Children and Young people Scrutiny Committee. Members of the Committee were informed that the protocol would go to Cabinet and then the Council for adoption, considering any views received.

A discussion was held with Committee members about the content of the protocol with particular reference to wording. Members of the Committee were encouraged by the work that had taken place and were felt that Cardiff was setting a bar that others will follow. Committee members considered it was helpful to have clarity on their role as advocates; bringing issues to Officers who are professionals, to deal with them.

Committee members were also informed of the development and progression of projects across the service area to help enhance the voice of young people which included a new digital app and building on the Bright Sparks Participation forum.

The Committee were intrigued about the mutual participation between young people, their forum and CPAC, but sought advice on the format in which the young people would like this to take place. Members of the Committee suggested that when meeting face to face they could meet somewhere familiar to the young people.

Committee members wished to stress to young people that that they were keen to hear from them and it would be an opportunity for them to raise any issues and would be positive all around. They were keen that this experience was not intimidating for the young people.

March 2021

Family Thrive project

In March 2021 the Project Manager for the Family Thrive Team presented to Committee courses for parents and carers being piloted by the Looked After Children in Education (LACE) Team. The purpose of the course was to support parents and carers to meet the wellbeing and social emotional development needs of their children. - Act as an advocate for young people and support their engagement with other advocacy services to ensure their voices are heard and responded to accordingly

The Committee were advised of the issues that had impacted the service during the Covid 19 pandemic and how it had adapted in line with government restrictions at the time. This included maintaining contact with all young people open to the Personal Adviser service and providing advice via telephone, skype and text. Members of the Committee heard how staff were working flexibly to ensure the needs of young people were prioritised to support them at times when they may feel more vulnerable and isolated.

A discussion was held on the emotional drain the pandemic and restrictions had on young people and officers were questioned if they felt they provided the supportive role that parents would. The Committee were advised that young people often have many different support workers throughout their lives and building relationships was vital. The nature of working relationships varied also with some young people having aspirations and ideas for their future, some young people coming from the Youth Justice Service, others in crisis. Each young person needs different levels and types of support at different times. Members of the Committee commended the work by Officers.

The event has been an excellent example of good practice in participation. Due to the Covid 19 restrictions the event last year was held online.

A discussion was held in regard to planning for future Bright Sparks event including suggestions from Committee members about a change in categories, the best time in the year for the event to take place and where would be best to hold the event. Young people also need to feel the information they supply is important and the benefit and impact of surveys explained.

Committee members were advised in relation to outcomes of the pilot that within 6 months the pilot would have a handle on the data and the process would be fully embedded and aligned with the Health Board and that within 18 months it would be possible to report back on the themes coming through from the data.

The Committee were informed that training to staff had been adapted to be delivered online rather than face to face due to Covid restrictions. Complaints and Compliments – Performance report

The Committee's terms of reference state that it will receive Children's Services Complaints reports and Compliments performance report. A report is produced and provided to the Committee at each reporting quarter period.

It is a statutory requirement for Local Authorities to have in place a Representations and Complaints Procedure for Social Services. Statutory complaints relate to the provision of social care and are handled in line with the national regulations. Citizens making complaints have a right to be listened to properly and have their concerns resolved quickly and effectively. Children's Services emphasis is on listening to concerns and using this learning to improve services for everyone who uses them. Complaints should be handled in such a way that the complainant is the focus, not the process, and that the particular circumstances of the complainant are considered (including their age or disability). Where the complaint relates to a looked after child, a child in need or a care leaver the local authority has a duty to provide an advocate as required.

At each quarterly report update the Committee were informed of the methods of how citizens can make a complaint, the themes of the complaints with analysis, as well as compliments received about Children Services, thus helping the Committee to gain an understanding of common issues facing citizens.

In October the Committee received the Annual Quality Assurance Report for Ty Storrie Short Break Service and Crossland's Childrens home covering the period Oct 2020 – March 2021. The aim of producing the reports was to inform and drive improvements in the quality of care provided to the young at the home and short break service.
